THE BANNER.

MOUNT VERNON, NOVEMBER 19, 1869

Reading matter on every page.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

— Good butter is in great demand, and retails readily at 35 cents per pound.

— Toledo talks of a $100,000 hotel. — Smart place, that Toledo!

— On Monday last a new Time Table went into operation on the B. & O. R. R., Lake Erie Division.

— Henry Reynold died near Straitsville, Perry county, November 4th, at the advanced age of 95.

— Hon. F. H. Hurd, of Toledo, is now in our city attending Court. Frank comes to Mt. Vernon to court frequently.

— Some of the papers think that the supply of Indian Summer this year was rather a poor article.

— Mr. A. D. Laveridge offers for sale a very desirable farm in Wayne township. See advertisement in another column.

— Advertisements should be handed in by 12 o'clock on Wednesday, if possible, to insure publication in that week's paper.

— Dr. Loar has taken Dr. Sitherwood, an excellent young physician, into partnership with him in the practice of medicine. Office on Gambier street, near Main.

— J. B. Banning has sold his residence on Gambier Avenue, and purchased the Nursery of Mr. Wells, one mile north of Mt. Vernon.

— A Cincinnati paper advertises for "girls for cooking." You will like them raw, when you once get accustomed to them.

— Commissioner Delano is about to decide that man and wife, who have children, are rated as "manufacturers," and must pay a tax.

— Somerset, Perry county, is moving for a new fair ground and trotting park. — $2,000 are subscribed; $10,000 are wanted. Prospect good to raise it.

— An exchange says that sweet potatoes can be kept all winter by packing them in dry sand and storing them away in some warm place.

— The BANNER is read more attentively, is more eagerly sought after and contains more local news than any paper in this section of the State.

— As the season for burglaries is at hand, people will do well to look at their door and shutter fastenings, and see that everything is right.

— Reader, have you paid your subscription to the BANNER? If not, don't allow another week to pass without doing so. — You'll feel better yourself to know you are out of our debt.

— Mr. Fisher, editor of the Coshocton Democrat, and Mr. Van Cleave, of the Circleville Democrat, are "on a scout" for the benefit of their health.

— Dr. Scott's "medicine case," which was stolen by a burglar from his office in Bladenburg, was found by some school children, in a fence corner, near Greenville.

— Two fancy ladies were arrested and lodged in jail last week for entering the house of Mrs. J. K. Miller, on High street, and carrying away articles that did not belong to them.

— Our friends Johnson & Israel, we are pleased to state, are doing a thriving business. Their Oil Mill is running day and night, and is turning out the best Flaxseed Oil that is sold in Central Ohio.

— Sam'l. J. Brent, the Clerk-elect, has been assisting Alex. Elliott, the old Clerk of the Court, for some days past, for the purpose of "getting his hand in," before taking possession of the office.

— General Brinkerhoff (Radical) of Mansfield is making speeches in favor of "Free Trade," and the Xenia Troop Light (Bassoon's old paper) is advocating the same doctrine. "The world moves."

— The Festival gotten up by the ladies of the Episcopal Church, last week, was in all respects a success. The proceeds (over $100) are to be applied towards the purchase of a chandelier for the church.

— Oscar M. Arnold has moved into his elegant new home on Main street, recently owned and occupied by Mark Curtis. Mr. Curtis is about removing to St. Louis, where he intends engaging in the milling business.

— Conductor James Gibant, whose sad death we noticed last week, was to have been married to a young lady of Newark, in about two weeks. He was buried in the suit in which he was to have been married.

— The Commissioners of Licking county are making arrangements to rebuild the portion of the County Infirmary destroyed a short time since by fire, and are consulting with the Board of State Charities as to plans, &c.

— F. M. Green, late of Mt. Vernon, has been appointed by the President Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district of Richmond, Va. Any Mt. Vernon Radical can get an office if he gets on the right side of Delano.

— Our big-hearted friend George B. Potwin, will be pleased to accept the thanks of the Harper family for the present of a large can of F. King & Co's. Family Oysters—the best we have ever tasted in Mt. Vernon.

— We can assure our friend of the Delaware Herald that the line of Railroad from Mt. Vernon to Delaware "will not be over-looked." Bet Delaware must go to work, as Mt. Vernon did, and "come down with the stamps."

— Joseph Miller and Young Rowley, two of Mt. Vernon's most active and energetic young men, have bought the Arena true Brewery, and intend, as soon as they can put it in order, to commence brewing ale and beer on a large scale.

— Two ladies got into a controversy the other evening in regard to Prof. Not's qualifications as a teacher of dancing. — Said Mrs. B. to her opponent: "You think he is a good teacher, but I say he is Not." First lady did not see the point.

— That Big Swindle.

The "Metropolitan Gift Company," of New York, propose, through another bogus concern, called the "Merchant's Advertising Agency," to send us a nice watch, provided we will pay them seventy-five dollars in advertising and twenty-five dollars in cash! If any editor is green enough to accept such a proposition, he should be bored for the similes. "Harper Wilson & Co." proprietors of the "Metropolitan Gift Company," are the grandest rascals out of Sing Sing. They have already swindled us out of $25, and we don't propose to give them a chance to repeat the operation.

— Two men from Wood county left a wagon and horses at Jamestown, near Toledo, and started out to the marsh to shoot ducks, saying they would return next morning. It is supposed they were drowned.

Dilworth, Harper & Co.

We take pleasure in directing attention to the card of Dilworth, Harper & Co., who have just opened in the wholesale grocery business, at No. 243 Liberty street, opposite the head of Wood street. The partners are George W. Dilworth, Albert M. Harper and Joseph Dilworth. The means of this firm, together with the established reputation of the gentlemen comprising it, entitle the house to the highest commercial consideration. The leading article member, Mr. Geo. W. Dilworth, has recently dissolved partnership with the house of J. S. Dilworth & Co., and is entering into the new firm every qualification of an honorable, affable and successful merchant. Major Harper (son of John Harper, Esq., President of the Bank of Ohio) is a well known character for intelligence and integrity. Mr. Joseph Dilworth is known to every one as possessing to an excellent degree, a practical knowledge of the business, and the fortunate realization of its rewards. It rarely occurs that a new firm is started combining so many elements of success. We bespeak for it a hearty welcome, for every man of judgment knows that such houses as Dilworth, Harper & Co., combining moral, financial and commercial strength, add to the reputation of the city, and materially help to extend its trade, thus incidentally benefiting every other branch of active business. —Pittsburg Commercial.

Bold Robbery.

On Friday of last week the village of Cardington, Morrow county, was treated to a first-class robbery, the particulars of which are thus given in the Mt. Gilead Register:

An agent for the Bucyrus Woolen Mills, who had been out on a collecting tour, called at Cardington for the purpose of receiving fourteen hundred dollars belonging to the firm. The money had been left at the store of Grant & Sanderson. After receiving the money the agent started for the depot for the purpose of taking the 11 o'clock train for Columbus. Before reaching the depot he observed two men standing a short distance ahead of him, who, upon coming up to him, separated, passing between them. The money was then taken from him. The robbers then left without giving a receipt for the money. The agent then continued his journey, but the danger which he was exposed to, and the hands which he was carrying off, were not forgotten by him. This is one of the boldest robberies ever perpetrated in Morrow county. — No clue to the robbers has yet been obtained.

Ballou's Monthly Magazine.

We are in receipt of this marvelously cheap and handsome Magazine for December. Its table of contents is varied and charming, embracing the usual fine variety of serials, sketches, stories, poems and attractive engravings. The publishers announce in the prospectus for the coming year, a serial story for adults, by the popular Magazine writer, James Franklin Pitts, and a juvenile serial by the young people's favorite, Horatio Alger, Jr. The price of this periodical is a marvel to everybody—a hundred page first-class illustrated Magazine for fifteen cents, or $1.50 per year, is indeed wonderfully cheap. Elliott, Thomas & Talbot, Publishers, Boston, Mass.

Mammoth Corn.

Our friend T. M. Bartlett has left at this office some mammoth ears of corn, which were husked on the farm of Mark Curtis, immediately west of Mt. Vernon. One ear is 14½ inches long, and is well filled with sound grains of corn. We have two other ears that grew upon the same stalk, each about 12 inches long, sound to the core, and weigh together one pound and fifteen ounces. Seventy-two ears like these will make a bushel of shelled corn. If any of our Knox county farmers can beat this let them "show the documents."

Dr. G. W. Barnes.

Our former townsman Dr. G. W. BARNES, who has recently filled a Professor's chair in the Cleveland Homeopathic College, has resigned his place in that institution, owing to ill-health, and is about to visit California. Before taking leave the Faculty, students and other friends assembled in the College lecture room, when, after appropriate speeches, a beautiful solid silver drinking cup, napkin ring and heavy gold finger ring were presented to Dr. Barnes, as a token of regard by his many friends in Cleveland.

Le Bon Ton

The great Paris Fashion Magazine, for December, has come to hand—beautiful and attractive as ever. It has magnificent steel-plate fashions, plain and colored, copied after the latest Paris modes, with explanatory remarks, together with some choice literary reading. Published by S. T. Taylor, 391 Canal street, New York.

An Elegant Sheet.

The new Illustrated Circular of the Iron City College is doubtless the finest thing of the kind ever gotten up in this country. Copies of the same can be obtained free of charge, on addressing the Principals, Smith & Cowley, Pittsburg, Pa.

Go to Tudor's for the cheap Groceries in Mt. Vernon.

He sells 1 lb best Green Tea for $1.00, 1 gallon Good Syrup for 80 cts., 3 bars Star Soap for 25 cts., 100 lbs Star Soap 5 cts. per bar, Sugar 12 to 16 cts. per lb.

And every thing else in proportion. You can save more than one dollar by calling on him for Groceries. The above are Cash Prices.

A NOTICEABLE FACT.—That one way of appealing to a man's reason is through his eye. In these busy times men are so deeply immersed in the conduct of magnificent projects, that they forget all about the condition of their systems, and hence it is that the Proprietors of the Plantation Bitters, which cures Dyspepsia, purifies the blood, improves the tone of the stomach, regulates the bowels, and, indeed, invigorates the whole inner man, are so active in advertising. In fact, advertisements are merely sky-rockets sent up to attract attention to a really good article.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best improved German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

Star Soap.

After this date, we will sell two bars of Star Soap for 15 cents. November 13th, 1869.

BALDWIN & WARDEN.

There are a great many preparations for the hair in market, but we are satisfied that the Alkama is ahead of them all, in virtue at least, and it's proves as successful as the Constitution Bitters, Seward & Bently ought to fall gratified.

Nothing better for coughs and colds than Seward's Cough Cure.

If you want to get a good saddle and bridle, go to Thompson's.

A good saddle for ten dollars, at Thompson's. Who will ride bareback?

History of Woman.

Howe's Subscription Book. Concern of Cincinnati, have just published to sell through Agents, a small octavo volume of 448 pages, and 21 full page engravings, by Dr. L. P. Brockett, author of "Woman's Work in the Civil War." It is entitled, "Woman, her Rights, Wrongs, Privileges and Responsibilities, being a History of her condition in all ages and countries, from her Creation and Fall in Eden to the present time."

The author describes woman's condition, wrongs and sufferings (it does not appear that she had any rights) from the creation down to the Christian era; her gradual improvement under christianity; the laws relating to women; her education, employment, wages; her capacity for various callings of life, public and private; and the imperfections of Woman Suffrage. The work contains historical facts and data, which will be of great value to the public, especially in consideration of the increasing interest of the "Woman's Question."

A large number of spirited engravings illustrate woman engaged in various branches of industry—education, public and private life, some of which are novel, showing women in new positions claimed as a right by advocates of Woman Suffrage.

The frontispiece is an honest steel plate, showing Women as Queens of the Family. Then we have her ploughing with an ass—standing at the door of her tent directing the work of four husbands—in the streets of Vienna going up the ladder shattering the heads of mortals on the stump of West engaged in screaming oratory—in Salmon P. Chase's chair in the Supreme Court, etc.

Some of the illustrations are quite humorous, evincing a touch of benevolence on the part of the publisher to amuse, while the work itself is a calm, instructive volume, by a writer whose work on the heroism of our noble, self-sacrificing women during the late war has given him a pleasing position among the historians of the times.

The publisher, in his advertisement for Agents, says the work comments itself to that somewhat numerous class of our fellow citizens, who have or who have had mothers!

The Lad's Friend.

The December or Christmas Number of this attractive monthly has come to hand. It has two beautiful steel engravings, colored fashions, a variety of patterns, music, pretty stories and poetry. The publishers offer great inducements to new subscribers, and we recommend our readers to enclose ten cents for a sample copy, to Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut street, Philadelphia. Price $2.50 a year (which also includes a large steel engraving.) Four copies, $6.—Five copies (one gratis) $8.—"The Lad's Friend" and "The Saturday Evening Post" (and one engraving) $4.00.

Among the attractions at our late Fair, there was nothing that won more general commendation than the marble work exhibited by our fellow townsmen, O. F. Mehurin & Son. Their marbleized iron and steel mantles are the finest we have ever seen. They keep a large stock of these goods and furnish them with grates for any desired pattern, all complete for from thirty dollars upward. The marble work exhibited was of superior workmanship, consisting of mouldings, flowers, drapery, &c. A dog, life size, in Italian Marble, attracted especial attention. This work was not gotten up for the Fair, but was promiscuously selected from the work in their room, which, we are informed, contains nearly eight thousand dollars worth of monuments and head stones in great variety. — We cordially commend this firm. They are liberal in their dealing, and honorable in reputation. Long may they wave. —Newark American.

Knox County Farmer

A Warm Bed for Pigs.

We very well remember a saying of an old gentleman, an excellent farmer, that if you would make a hog profitable, you should not let him over a winter; and we think we have learned the lesson. The snow and sleet, will keep and nurse, and for less expense, and yield more in return for their care, than those which are fifteen or twenty months old. But one thing is quite certain; if we prefer our store hogs to come in the fall, we ought to be careful to keep them, through our long cold winters, both warm and dry.
Every observant farmer knows that if his cattle are not sheltered from the cold weather and storms, they will require much more food to keep them in tolerable order, than if they are kept warm and comfortable. Just as it is with pigs, if they are suffered to run over your premises in the snow and sleet, with their legs and snout red and the gill of your gobbler, without a warm and dry bed of clean straw to resort to when they choose, they will not only, in all probability, come out with mungie in the spring, but every grant they give will convince you that all the food they have devoured has been thrown away; for hogs that have a cold, damp, comfortable bed, will get mungie, and many pigs cannot grow.
Let any one who has a mind to try the experiment, take two pigs of the same litter, suffering the one to run in the snow and sleet, and let the other be well housed and well fed, and it will be found that the superior growth of the latter will pay for the care bestowed upon him, with good interest. Hogs that are confined, and cannot get to the earth, will frequently be benefited by having a little charcoal, soft bricks, or soft rotten wood thrown in to them; and a trifling quantity of gristons mixed in their food occasionally is a very excellent thing.

The hog has the reputation of being a dirty fellow, but we should remember that he likes to be dirty in his own way, and for his own pleasure; he neither prefers to live cold nor in filth; still less does he choose to be half fed. Dr. Franklin's man said the hog was the only gentleman in England, because he alone was exempted from labor. If this be so, surely he ought to be well fed and well housed in America. We entirely believe that the same amount of food that will barely carry a pig through the winter with bad management, will, with good, prudent treatment, keep him growing, and in the spring you have something to build upon that will buy and make you solid porker who will do credit to your sty.—Ruralist.

Salt in Agriculture.

Few farmers are aware of the value of common salt as manure for land. It is one of the cheapest and most abundant of all substances used as a fertilizer, and can be easily obtained for agricultural purposes.

One peck of salt in each cord of compost, will not only hasten the decomposition of the manure, but will kill seed and all grub—a very desirable effect.
The crops especially benefited by this manure are Asparagus, the Mangel, Wortzel, Beets and Wheat. In the ordinary use upon the farm it would perhaps be best to mix it with lime, or with plaster mixed in the proportion of one barrel of the former to two of the latter, make an excellent manure. The effect is not so plainly seen in the increased quantity of quality.

Salt is chloride of sodium, and when the chloride is liberated in the soil the soda goes to form new compounds.
An experiment was tried at one of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, to test the importance of salt as a manure. Last spring two lots were selected, upon which eight bushels of it were sown broadcast, to the one. One lot was planted to potatoes, the other sown to oats. The result was that the crop of potatoes was largely increased, while that of the oats was nearly doubled.—Ez.

Agriculture.
Study is essential to the highest success of agriculture, and farming ought to rank among the learned professions as a field of intellectual labor and enjoyment. It is generally adapted to the wants of man.—We find that the very beginning, physical being. By their untimely power of improvement, they are fitted to gratify his increasing desire for advances in civilization.—Prof. Chadbourne.

is sure proof of their superiority over the ordinary Glasses.

We are satisfied that here, as elsewhere, the advantages to be derived from their use need only to be known to secure their almost general adoption. Compare the beautifully distinct sight, the perfect ease and comfort, the readily ascertained improvement of the eyes enjoyed by the wearers, with the discomfort and positive injury to the sight caused by wearing the common spectacles. Nine-tenths of all Eye Diseases result from wearing improper glasses.

Persons needing aids to sight can at all times procure of Mr. L. Stone, our Sole Agent in this locality, our
